Columbine or Aquilegia

This is a very choice strain, the seed plants being selected from the famous Mrs. Scott Elliott hybrids and other choice strains.

The graceful, long-spurred Columbine is one of the most satisfactory of the perennials. It blooms at a time when flowers are scarce, helping out greatly on Decoration Day, Mothers' and Fathers' Day, Commencements, weddings, etc. It gives a particularly beautiful lacey effect in baskets, combined with Pansies or other flowers, using the Columbine as a back ground and adding height to the general effect. Columbine works up nicely in funeral designs and is also beautiful in the garden. It blooms for a long period;—is still blooming when the Glads begin.

Seedlings transplanted in the fall will bloom the next season and will become larger and better for several years. The seed may be planted in the spring, summer or fall.

REGAL LILIES

Consider the Lilies

Fragrant
Hardy Beautiful

Regal Lilies are the most popular of all the lilies. They are very hardy, large, white, very fragrant, tall, and do well almost anywhere. The demand is growing much greater with each passing year.

The culture of Regal Lilies is very simple. They can be planted in any good garden soil which is slightly acid. If the soil is alkaline, the leaves may turn yellow. They will do best with good cultivation and some irrigation if available. Avoid fresh fertilizers. Well rotted cow manure is good. Give good drainage.

Plant the small bulbs about three to four inches deep, the medium size about six inches and the larger ones about eight inches deep, placing them about six inches apart in the trenches, and the trenches sufficiently far apart for good cultivation.

As an excellent blooming size we especially recommend size 5-6, as this size should all bloom and make a goodly number of florets to the stem. Size 4-5 should also all bloom but will not have so many florets. The larger the bulb, the more florets, as a general rule. Regal Lily bulbs are measured by circumference. In other words, size 4-5 means 4 to 5 inches around the bulb. Size 3-4 will usually make one bloom.

Priced f.o.b. Canby, subject to prior sale, and for cash. Do not send bulb orders of less than $2.00 total.
